

7. An undergraduate student who, because of unsatisfactory academic performance, is either required to withdraw, and/or required to repeat a year, and/or put on probation, will retain credit for courses in which grades of D or higher have been attained during the period for which the student's performance was evaluated as unsatisfactory. Notwithstanding this credit, Faculties may require substitution of other courses in programs in which full course loads are required.
8. The Faculties of Engineering, Law, Medicine and Dentistry, and Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences were granted exemption from (7) above.

Prerequisite Course Requirements

Departments may cancel the registrations of students in courses offered by the departments who do not meet the prerequisite requirements as stated in the course descriptions in this Calendar.

Degree credit may be withheld for courses with prerequisite requirements if the prerequisite requirements have not been met or waived in writing.

Where a prerequisite is stated, it is understood that equivalent courses may be used to satisfy the requirement. In addition, the prerequisite requirements may be waived with the written approval of the department that offers the course.

Students who are unsure that they meet the prerequisite requirements in a course, or who wish to obtain permission to have a prerequisite waived, should consult the department offering the course.

Corequisite Course Requirements

Students registering in courses for which a corequisite is listed must also register in the corequisite course or have previously passed the corequisite course. Departments may cancel the registrations of students in courses offered by the departments who do not meet the corequisite requirements as stated in the course description of this Calendar. Degree credit may be withheld for courses with corequisite requirements if the corequisite requirements have not been met or waived in writing.

Where a corequisite is stated, it is understood that equivalent courses may be used to satisfy the requirements. In addition, the corequisite requirements may be waived with the written approval of the Department that offers the course.

Students who are unsure that they meet the corequisite requirements in a course, or who wish to obtain permission to have a corequisite waived, should consult the Department offering the course.

Courses with corequisite requirements may only be used for degree credit if the corequisite requirements have been met or waived in writing.

Tuition Deposit

Undergraduate students who are newly admitted to a program at the University, both high school and postsecondary, are required to accept their offer of admission and to pay a nonrefundable $500 Tuition Deposit for Domestic Students (Canadian Citizens or Permanent Residents of Canada) and $1000 for International Students (Students on Study Permit). Payment of the deposit is required in order to access registration. The Tuition Deposit is credited towards the student's overall tuition assessment. Note: A Tuition Deposit is not required for graduate students and students remaining in their current program of study.

The Tuition Deposit is nonrefundable. Students who pay the Tuition Deposit and choose not to attend will forfeit their deposit. Students who pay a similar deposit to confirm acceptance of admission to a quota program do not pay an additional Tuition Deposit. (Note: When a student who has received admission to the University is subsequently denied admission, a refund will be issued in this circumstance only.)

Students who choose not to attend should delete courses immediately. Failure to do so may be costly as fee deadlines are considered firm and are strictly enforced. Students are responsible for adhering to published deadlines and are accountable for fees unless they drop their registration by the appropriate deadline. (See Academic Schedule).
